

Die fbris 13. Iunii, 1644.

Whereas there are many poore, sick and wounded souldiers, who have ventured their lives in the publike service of the Kingdome, who are in great want and necessity of Linnen and Woollen Cloaths, for relieving them in their distresse, which want causeth their misery to become more uncomfortable, and keepes backe the cure of the ir wounds and sicknesse. It is therefore this day Ordered by the Commons Assembled in Parliament, that the said William Greenbill, John Pococke, John Randall, Richard Hutebinson, Treasurers for maymed souldiers, shal appoint three or four such meet persons as they shal think fit, to go from Parish to Parish within the Line of Communication, Bills of Mortality, & the Associated Counties, who may earnestly stirre up and desire all well affected people to contribute their old Cloathes, either Linnen or Woollen, towards the reliefe of the aforementioned poore souldiers, and all such Linnen and Woollen as shall be so contributed, shall be delivered into the charge of the Church-wardens of the said Parishes, where they are contributed, to be by them conveyed to the aforementioned Treasurers of London, for maimed souldiers, at Tallow-Chandlers-Hall, neere Dowgate, on every wednesday, betwixt the houres of two and five a clock in the afternoone. And the said Church-wardens are hereby required, forthwith to deliver in to the aforesaid Treasurers for maymed Souldiers, and at the aforesaid place, all such linnen Surplices as are now remaining or belonging to their severall Parishes, to be employed for the uses aforesaid.

H. B. J. Cler. Parl., D. Com.

13 June 1644

2573